SEND ANTITOXIN TO MANY DOCTORS

State Board of Health Shipped Supply for 400 Cases in November.

Enough antitoxin for 400 cases of diphtheria was dispensed through the State Health Department by the physicians of the State during November. In addition to this, probably as much again was purchased from the regular drug stores, so that at least 800 persons were treated with antitoxin during the month.

The distribution of this antitoxin has been one of the very important tasks undertaken by the State health authorities during recent months. As every syringe of antitoxin represents so much power to ward off and cure disease, the health officials have been endeavoring to circulate it as widely as possible, by forwarding his request to the State Board of Health, every member of every Board of Health, and every private physician in the State can secure the antitoxin at very low cost, for use in indigent cases or cases in which its purchase would be a hardship.

Pleased With Record.
The State Health Commissioner is greatly pleased at the results of last month's antitoxin work. In a statement given out yesterday, he says: "The distribution and use of this amount of antitoxin is a great factor in health work. It means that many deaths were prevented, and that a vast amount of sickness and suffering were saved to the people of the State. The people realize that antitoxin will do for the cure and prevention of diphtheria, and they are demanding its general use. One of the most pleasing features of the campaign has been the readiness with which the counties of the State are preparing to distribute antitoxin to their indigent patients. More than twenty-nine counties now issue the remedy free of cost to indigents, and others are preparing to follow their example. We believe that the fight against diphtheria, which is a real and a practical eradication of the disease."

RETURN UNMARRIED

Out-Miss Blackwell Wanted to Marry Hunter in Detective's Office.
John J. Hunter, who was arrested here Friday, on a charge of kidnapping the Frederickburg authorities, who charge him with grand larceny, and Miss Lucy Blackwell, who was arrested here on a charge of kidnapping, had they gotten that far, were taken back to Frederickburg yesterday.

Violates His Parole.
Klah Ansbury and Wesley Richards, colored, were arrested in Henrico county yesterday on a charge of playing crap, and both were taken before Magistrate Lewis and fined $2.50 and placed under $1000 bond for sixty days. Ansbury is said to have come out of the penitentiary two weeks ago on parole. He had been sentenced for housebreaking. If this is proved against him, he will have violated his parole, and must return to the penitentiary.

SECRET WORKER.
The Plan Upon Which Coffee Operates.

Coffee is such a secret worker that it is not suspected as the cause of sickness or disease, but there is a very sure way to find out the truth. A lady in Memphis gives an interesting experience her husband had with coffee. It seems that he had been using it for some time and was an invalid.

The physician in charge, shrewdly suspected that coffee was the "worm at the root of the tree" and ordered it discontinued with instructions to use Postum regularly in its place.

The wife says: "We found that was the true remedy for his stomach and heart trouble, and we would have gladly paid a hundred times the amount of the doctor's charge when we found how wise his judgment was. 'The use of Postum instead of coffee was begun about a year ago, and it has made my husband a strong, well man. He has gained thirty-five pounds in that time, and his stomach and heart trouble have all disappeared. The first time I prepared it I did not boil it long enough, and he said there was something wrong with it. Sure enough it did taste very flat; but the next morning I followed directions carefully, boiling it for fifteen minutes, and he remarked: 'This is better than any of the old coffee.'"

"We use Postum regularly and have been free of telling our friends of the benefit we have received from leaving off coffee."

COUNCIL MEETS TO-MORROW NIGHT

Final Vote Expected on Location of Confederate Battle Abbey.

Three matters of widespread interest are to be disposed of during the first two days of this week by the City Council and its committees, according to the municipal calendar. All three are matters which have been under discussion for some time, and on which many members of the Council are now ready to cast their final vote. They are the location of the Confederate Battle Abbey, approval of the agreement for consolidation with Manchester, and the disposition of the Cunningham charges.

The Common Council meets to-morrow in its regular monthly session at 8 o'clock with an extended docket, which will show the work of the committee for the past month. The resolution of the Council on the consolidation of the City and Manchester, which was passed at the last meeting, will be taken up and a final vote cast. The committee on the Cunningham charges, which was appointed at the last meeting, will also report.

Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the special committee on the investigation of charges against the office of the City Collector will continue its inquiry, with a prospect, according to the evidence and formulating its report. Police Justice Crutchfield and Mayor Richardson have been summoned as witnesses.

Tuesday night there will be another effort to secure a quorum of the Council. It is believed that the members of the Council will be present in large numbers, and that the Council will be able to dispose of the matters before it.

PAGES ARE SELECTED

Richmond Delegation in House Selects Sons of Widows.

Acting upon the principle that the members of the House of Delegates should go to those to whom the financial side of the question is of importance, the Richmond delegation in the next House session after Christmas selected the sons of widows for three of the four positions which these members are to fill. The first place will be filled by a boy who was a page in the last House, and who was selected because of his knowledge of the duties, and with the idea that he will instruct the others.

The fortunate youths are Elmore B. Gary, Peter Monahan, and William H. Polkes. Gary, who is a son of a policeman, is the hold-over page. The House has ten pages, four of which positions are at the disposal of the Richmond delegation. All ten are appointed by the Speaker, upon the recommendations of the members. Of the four sons of widows, Gary is the oldest, and Polkes is the youngest.

STATE MAY RENT DEPLETED GROUND

New Survey of Oyster Bottoms Shows How Industry Can Be Saved.

MOORE'S WORK COMPLETE

Legislature to Get Definite Information About Tidewater Situation.

Virginia's Commission of Fisheries will ask the General Assembly to draw the lines in the James River oyster bottoms in accordance with the report shortly to be submitted by Dr. H. F. Moore, First Assistant United States Commissioner of Fisheries, under whose direction the survey was made during the past summer. This action is indicated in the annual report of the commission, which was presented to the Governor yesterday.

The report states that from information received from Dr. Moore it is evident that he will draw up his charts just as was indicated in The Times-Dispatch at the time the survey was completed. The commission will urge that the depleted grounds be closed and rented to planters.

Dr. Moore's survey, for which this newspaper fought so long, will be presented in a chart. This chart will show the natural oyster rocks in the James River divided into five classes. First, there are the oyster rocks, which are entirely depleted and bare. Second, those rocks which are at such a low ebb that they cannot recuperate unaided. Third, those rocks which will recuperate naturally if given time, without interruption from the tongs. Fourth, the rocks which are fairly prolific at the present time. Fifth, the exceedingly prolific rocks.

Ready for Legislation.
The report of Dr. Moore, which is not yet ready, is expected to be submitted to the General Assembly, and will be presented to the Legislature. Upon the facts which it will contain, the Commission of Fisheries will urge that immediate action looking to the replanting of the depleted grounds be taken.

The plan Commission's report goes into the situation as outlined in The Times-Dispatch yesterday, showing the abundant yield and fine quality of the crop of oysters, and calling attention to the almost negligible market. It says, however, that the season's output of oysters is exceeding the supply, and that the market is firm and prices remunerative.

Commissioner W. McDonald Lee and the other members of the Board are pleased with the showing they are able to make regarding the financial conditions of the State's management of the industry.

To all appearances, the commission will be able to turn at the end of its fiscal year, fully $5,000 of the $15,000 appropriated to it by the Legislature. Besides this, of the $20,000 set apart for the purpose of adding to the oyster navy, the commission will return about $10,000. Furthermore, no increased appropriation will be asked for at the coming session of the Legislature, the commission believing that the present annual sum of $15,000 will be ample.

The total collections of the commission for the past four years amounted to $329,061, of which the sum of $197,544 is net profit to the State. During the last twelve years the total profits of the State from the oyster and fish industry, after eliminating the expenses of the board and commission, have been nearly $500,000.

THROAT MISERY

"Hymel did me a world of good when I had chronic laryngitis; in fact effected a cure after all the best specialists had given me up as a bad job. I tried Hymel the same as I had tried hundreds of other things that people or doctors would recommend. They all failed except Hymel, and this effected a cure that has been lasting. All my troubles happened 12 years ago, and I had ought to be ashamed not to have written you before. At first I waited to see if the cure was permanent or not, and when you realize that for five winters before I used Hymel that I could not sleep at night, and that sometimes not at all, you can judge why I waited with a good deal of anxiety for time to tell if I was really cured or not."—L. CRUTCHFIELD NOT FOR CHILD COURT

Richmond Police Justice Says Juvenile Courts Are Unnecessary.

Police Justice John J. Crutchfield is not in sympathy with the movement fostered by the State Conference of Charities and Correction to have the Legislature establish juvenile courts. He is one of the very few officers presiding in the police courts of the State who gave discouraging answers to the list of questions on the subject sent out by the State Board of Charities and Correction.

At the recent meetings in Richmond of the committee of legislation of the State Conference it was decided to ask the General Assembly to enact a general law requiring courts to be held for juvenile offenders at some other time than the regular police court sessions. This action was taken in obedience to the apparent public sentiment on the subject, as expressed by the social and charity workers and as ascertained by questioning the police justices and Mayors of Virginia.

In answer to the question, "In your experience among youthful offenders has your attention ever been called to the necessity of a juvenile court?" Justice Crutchfield answered, "Not necessary." In reply to a question as to whether he thought such a court would be attended with beneficial results, he said that legislation should be enacted giving larger discretion to the courts in charges against juvenile offenders.

Street Work Degrading.
"Probation is doing some good, as carried on in Richmond, was his comment on the query as to his views on the subject of probation. Asked as to his opinion of the policy of putting short term prisoners to work on the roads or on the streets, Justice Crutchfield said: "The work would be further degradation without good results. This policy is a good one in cases of larceny and kindred crime."

Other officials do not agree with Crutchfield's opinion. Mayor Cutchin, of Roanoke, says juvenile courts are "one of the pressing necessities of the age." Mayor Rice, of Bristol, favors a separate court, for "the young should never be allowed to come in contact with the hardened criminal." Police Justice Simmons, of Norfolk, favors the court, to "remove the idea of criminals from the eyes of the children." Some of the officials believe that in small cities the situation can be handled by the regular justices, while in larger places the juvenile court is desirable. Mayor Hudson, of Charlottesville, thinks that if proper precaution is used in the selection of justices of the peace and police justices, Mayor Lake, of Buena Vista does not think such a court would be a good thing in his city.

Mayor to Address Colored People.
Mayor Richardson will deliver a special address under the auspices of the colored Young Men's Christian Association this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in "True Reformers" hall on the subject "Christian Manhood." It will be introduced by Rev. W. P. Graham, pastor of the Fifth Street Baptist Church. Special solos will be sung by Thomas M. Crump.

The Heavenly Convention, the Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet with the Society of the Fairmount Methodist Church Tuesday at 10 A. M. All members are urged to be present.

GOLD MEDAL FOR BEST LECTURES

Richmond Police Institute Adopts Novel Plan to Encourage Bible Teaching.

Unique in the history of Sunday school institutes in the South will be the award this afternoon of a gold medal for the best summary of the lectures of the Sunday school institute held here last week. The institute consisted largely of lectures on various topics connected with Sunday schools, and the idea has been to educate Sunday school workers in a progressive and efficient way. Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Eliason will present the medal at the Second Baptist Church.

The institute, made up of the churches of Richmond and Manchester for the greater part of the Baptist denomination, has broken all previous records with an enrollment of 900 students. A large proportion of these will to-day receive diplomas for having attended twenty or more lectures during the week.

The addresses have been of the most practical and helpful nature. The unprecedented attendance has encouraged the belief that Sunday school work here will be much benefited.

The program yesterday was brief but excellent, including talks by L. P. Leavell, B. W. Spillman and B. H. DeMont.

To-day the devotional exercises will
